

Piano lessons

To book, or for more information please contact Catherine Williams catherinewilliams127@gmail.com

Catherine graduated with a BA honours degree in music from Southampton University and commenced a career as a percussion and piano teacher. She has always been a passionate educator and has held teaching positions in music services, private schools, state schools and privately. She has recently held the position as head of percussion for Surrey Arts. Catherine is a dedicated teacher who delivers quality teaching and embraces a wide range of musical styles, enthusing students to embrace music. Catherine has helped students to go on to further study music and some now have successful careers as performers and teachers. She welcomes the opportunity to teach piano to children at the Priory.